

EOS Power receives Rajiv Gandhi National Quality Award

New Delhi, October 28th 2015: EOS Power received the Rajiv Gandhi National Quality award in the category of 'Large Scale Manufacturing Industry – Electrical & Electronic'. These awards are presented by the Bureau of Indian Standards to encourage manufacturing and service organizations to strive for excellence and to recognize chosen leaders of the quality movement in India. The award winners and recipients of commendation certificates were selected from various industrial areas following rigorous evaluation by qualified professionals from different spheres of intellectual activity.

The award is presented annually and is similar to other national quality awards worldwide like the Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award of the United States, European Quality Award of the European Union and the Deming Prize of Japan.
